

Illinois Wesleyan University presents a

Chamber Music Program

*For Junior High and High School
String, Piano, and Wind Players*

Coachings will be held Saturdays,
September through December

*The IWU Chamber Music Program
September – December, 2007*

The IWU String Preparatory Department is offering Chamber Music classes to junior high and high school musicians on strings, winds, and piano. Students do not have to be enrolled in the IWU Prep Program but must be studying privately. Piano trios, string quartets, and other ensembles will be formed based on age and experience.

Chamber music is one of the most exciting and challenging experiences for musicians. Playing in a small ensemble with one player per part develops listening, communication, and teamwork skills. All student ensembles will be coached by IWU faculty. Coachings and rehearsals will take place on Saturdays for one hour from mid-September to December at IWU's Presser Hall.

The Final Concert is on Sunday, December 9 at 6:00 pm in Westbrook Auditorium. Chamber groups will have additional opportunities to perform in the community.

Tuition for the entire course is $150 for non-IWU Prep students/ $40 for IWU Prep students, payable to the IWU String Preparatory Program. Applications must be received by Sept. 10.
