

EarthRights International: Chiang Mai, Thailand

Tera Wilson and Eva Nautiyal

Field Trips

Met with Environmental Advocates in Different Villages

Took Many Boat Rides

Learned about Local Culture

What is EarthRights International?

“Our training, legal, and campaigns programs shift power from global elites to local communities and frontline earth rights defenders. Our work covers: Climate Justice, Corporate Accountability, Mega-Projects, Land Rights, Extractive Industries, and Earth Rights Defenders.” –EarthRights International

What did we do together?

Worked with the training team to serve as English tutors and teachers, running an English class, editing English papers and presentations, and tutoring 1:1 with students in the evenings

What did we each do?

Tera

- Developed Lesson Plans
- Led English Class
- Took Morning Notes
- Conducted Advocacy Research

Eva

- Completed Graphic Design Project
- Supported English Class
- Took Afternoon Notes
- Conducted Cultural Research

Weekend Activities

Canoed at Huay Tung Tao Lake

Hiked at Pai Canyon

Tasted the Local Foods at Many Markets