Nominations for Honorary Degrees
Recently, an email went out from the President's Office soliciting nominations for honorary degrees. Please consider nominating someone for this very prestigious recognition. In thinking about possible nominees, you should refer to the Criteria, Key Factors, and Rules specified in the policy statement. If you decide to nominate someone, please submit the following information:

1. A brief letter of nomination that summarizes the candidate’s qualifications for this honor.

2. A curriculum vitae or biography if one can be secured from readily available sources.

3. A list of two or three people who are in a position to evaluate the contributions of your nominee and could be asked to serve as a reference. Please include addresses, email and phone numbers if at all possible.

Nominations should be submitted no later than Friday, October 21, 2011.

All Staff Meeting
Staff Council plans to host the third annual All-Staff Meeting in January. While the date is not yet set, we hope you will be able to attend this informational meeting which will include presentations from President Wilson and members of the cabinet.

Peer Mentoring Program
The goal of this program is to offer all new staff members the opportunity to meet regularly, for up to one year, with an experienced staff member on campus to assist in the new employee’s transition and acclimation to the University. If you would like to serve as a mentor to an IWU staff member, or if you are a new staff member who would like to request a mentor, please fill out this form (http://www.iwu.edu/facresources/council/peermentorform.shtml). More information can be found on the peer mentoring page (http://www.iwu.edu/facresources/council/peer_mentoring.shtml).

Suggestion/Question Boxes
Staff Council has three suggestion/question boxes located on campus. They are located in the Memorial Center across from the Davidson Room, in Holmes Hall by the Business Office windows and at Physical Plant near the time cards. Please feel free to drop anonymous suggestions or questions into the boxes. Staff Council will review them at each meeting.

Answers to Staff Questions

Q: At the January All-Staff Meeting, President Wilson was asked about the University’s position on hiring from within. In response, he noted that the policy would be reviewed and the following policy was shared with Staff Council:
A: Promoting Nonexempt Staff From Within the University:

“Illinois Wesleyan University encourages interviewing and hiring staff from within the University by:

When recruiting, vacant positions are posted internally for at least five business days so that staff has an opportunity to apply;

Positions that are being filled are posted internally as a communication tool so that staff is aware of the recruitment;

Staff who appear to be a good match for the position will be contacted for an interview; and

When the staff member is the best fit for a position, he/she will be offered the job.”

Q: Regarding inclement weather. How long does the University stay closed? We have staff on second and third shifts. Do they report in or is the University closed for 24 hours after the announcement?

A: According to the Support Staff Handbook, Unscheduled Closing p. 61:

If the President or designate closes the University before the work day begins, employees are not expected to report to work and will be paid for the time scheduled to work for that day. No employee shall accrue additional pay or benefits by working all or a portion of such a day. If the President or designate closes the University during the work day, employees on duty at the time of the closing will receive full pay for the remainder of that day.

For example: When the University is closed for the day, employees whose shifts start on or before 11:59pm on the day of the closing are not to report to work.

Q: Can Wesleyan look into allowing faculty and staff to take loans against their 401k and pay loans back through payroll deductions?

A: Faculty and staff of the university who currently participate in the TIAA program currently can take out loans from any money they have contributed. There are restrictions as to when a person can borrow money, so an employee should contact TIAA directly to find out the specifics. Repayment of this loan is arranged through TIAA and cannot be repaid through a payroll deduction. Faculty and staff of the University can also become a member of the IWU Federal Credit Union. As a member of the Credit Union an employee is eligible to borrow money which can be repaid through a payroll deduction. There are limits as to how much can be borrowed, so questions about the Credit Union should be addressed to Marlene Gordon in the Business Office at 556-3475. The University does not loan money to any employee and does not plan on doing so in the future. The IWU Federal Credit Union was established to assist employees with savings, as well as their borrowing needs. If an employee does not want to utilize the Credit Union, then there are numerous other financial institutions in the area (such as banks) that will provide for individual loans. Many of these loans can be repaid through automatic withdrawal from a person’s checking or savings account.
Q: The writer asks about inequality among various offices on campus in regards to how policies are adhered to for working hours, specifically comp time versus overtime. The writer says that per the handbook, any overtime worked past 40 hours is supposed to be paid at a rate of time and a half or is taken as time and a half comp time but as comp time has to be taken off during that same pay period. The writer says that it is very obvious that people who do not earn vacation time, 10 month positions, are taking time off. The writer is concerned that these people are taking whole weeks off at a time, which would mean they are either banking comp time or taking it without pay, and that according to the handbook we cannot bank comp time and a person cannot take time off without pay unless it is an emergency. The writer thinks that the university needs to either adhere to the policies in place for all and have the ability to police it or we need to go back to departmentally tracking comp time so all employees are allowed this privilege. This note was sent to Cathy Spitz, who replied:

A: The University is limited in its ability to authorize compensatory time for nonexempt staff. Compensatory time is regulated by Federal law, specifically, the Fair Labor Standards Act. For private employers like IWU, employees may only accrue and use comp time as stated in the Nonexempt Staff Handbook, which was correctly referenced in the note left in the suggestion box. Human Resource Office members are available to work with supervisors and employees to answer questions regarding any policy stated in the Handbook.

Q: Is there a way to keep people from parking in front of Holmes Hall in the 15-minute parking lot for longer than 15 minutes?

A: It was brought to Staff Council’s attention that the 15-minute parking sign was no longer in place in that lot. Security was contacted and said they would look into the matter.
