

Ellie Reineke's Bio:

Hi! My name is Ellie Reineke (she/her/hers) and I'm a junior here at IWU studying English Literature.

My tutoring philosophy focuses on leading questions like "what do you think?" This will allow both of us to learn and grow together. Ultimately, I want to lead you where you want to go and give suggestions that not only help you with this paper, but future ones as well. I will emphasize the important parts of your paper by breaking down each paragraph and making sure they have all the parts they need.

I like being a writing center tutor because as we actively work through a paper together, we are both becoming better writers and learning from each other.

I love brainstorming and creating outlines, so feel free to come to me with nothing but ideas in your head. You will leave the session with a structured outline to guide you when writing your paper.

I am familiar with the following citation styles: MLA. I am tutoring exclusively online for the Fall 2021 semester.
